VI. Center Updates: No comments.

VII. Discussion: Ms. Chenault explained that the meeting is in a different location and format with the goal to make the meetings less intimidating and get parents more involved. Board members expressed their thoughts on moving the board room to a less formal setting.

Ms. Lee stated that the PAC board configuration was designed specifically to get parent input from each SETA Operated center. Today's meeting was more informal in hopes that it would promote more conversation among and with board members. Ms. Lee stated that a number of other changes are being considered with agenda items and remote meeting access. Staff is exploring a pilot project to use technology for remote access at meetings from the school site. SETA's legal counsel is being consulted with regard to the probability. Some of the agenda items may be changed to reflect more center topics and topics affecting direct services to children and families in the field. The goal is to attract more parents as PAC representatives and engage more parents in program design and development. Staff are also proposing to type notes/talking points which will be distributed prior to the end of each meeting to use as an easy outline for sharing at center parent meetings. Ms. Lee asked for input from board members as to their interests and feedback on the proposed changes.

Ms. Donna Bonner stated that she liked the education and nutrition presentation. She is especially interested in what kind of engagement toys would be good specifically for special needs kids. The main thing is that every child needs to feel important.

Ms. Gutierrez liked learning about the blood lead issues included in Ms. Carr's presentation. It was interesting to learn that lead was included in other things beside paint.

Ms. Chenault likes the new format and would encourage all parents to participate. Is it possible to do mock meetings to show to new board members?

VIII. Public Participation: None.

IX. Adjournment: The meeting was adjourned at 10:50 a.m.
